

CONGRESS
IN DOUBT.

Positive Returns on the Election of Members Are Slow Coming In.

MAJORITY WILL BE NARROW.

No Sign as Yet of Hoped-for Republican Gains in the South.

BULLETINS FROM THE STATES.

Jerry Simpson All Right—Republicans Carry Breckinridge's District.

Much doubt surrounds the outcome of the fight for the lower House of Congress which took place over the country to-day.

GOFF GOES HIGHER UP.

Forty-one States voted; Maine, Oregon and Vermont having held their elections previous to November.

All party managers have agreed that whichever way the final count should go the difference was likely to be a matter within twenty votes.

Many districts which were carried away in the Democratic rush of 1892 are expected to return to former Republican allegiances as a result of to-day's voting, while, on the other hand, it is felt that influences at work in the West will result in Democratic gains there.

A great element of uncertainty in the West and Northwest is the Populist vote. Up to this hour there is little definite information from any quarter.

Republican estimates of a majority in the House are largely based on hopes of winning members in Louisiana, West Virginia and other parts of the South. Nothing is yet received to indicate a fulfillment of these hopes.

CONNECTICUT.

Connecticut voted for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Comptroller, a full Legislature and four Representatives in Congress. The State gave Cleveland 5,567 plurality in 1892, and Morris (Dem.) for Governor 6,111 plurality. Of the present Representatives three are Democrats and one a Republican.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—The vote here up to 2 o'clock this afternoon was unusually heavy for an off year. Piatt, the Democratic candidate, was cut considerably, but the A. P. did not make much showing on the surface.

Great interest was manifested locally in the contest for Sheriff. Tomlinson, a Republican, was running, but the Democratic candidate, a man named Piatt, was making a strong showing. Piatt will probably have a majority of 1,800 in the city to win the district. Very quiet about polling places.

Reports from Waterbury, Middletown and other towns in the Second Congressional District are that Congressman Piatt (Democrat) is running behind the ticket.

In this district it is claimed that Republican candidates voted for the State ticket for Congressional purposes. They expect that the election on Governor will go to the Legislature, which is expected to be Republican.

Wires to northern and eastern parts of the State down to the Legislature received from First and Third Districts.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 6.—The election here in the quietest manner in years. A. P. is working for Marigold, the Republican candidate for Senator, but otherwise the election is quiet and vote heavy. Populists, Republicans and Progressives are making a strong showing.

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 6.—Weather clear and cool. Election quiet. Small vote in this (First) District.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 6.—Weather perfect. Election quiet. Nothing of unusual importance.

SAFETY, Nov. 6.—To-day was clear and warm throughout California. As one of the results of the unusually bitter State campaign, a heavy vote was polled. In 1892 it elected one Republican and seven Democratic Presidential electors by a close vote, and four Democratic and three Republican Congressmen. There are three-thirtieths in the field, Democratic, Republican and Populist.

The present Representatives are Populists.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 6.—Most of the betting in Denver on the election in Colorado has been with odds of 2 to 1 or better in favor of the Republicans.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 6.—Most of the betting in this city was rapid to-day, and by noon more than half of the registered vote had been polled. The Democrats had 1,000 State constables sworn in for the election, and the State promises to be close, with chances favoring Democratic victory.
